The Adult Education Program at Prairie State College (PSC) offers tutoring in reading, English, math and computer literacy. Tutoring services are open to adults whose basic skills in reading and/or math are below a ninth-grade level. Most students who are taking High School Equivalency (HSC) courses are eligible to receive tutoring services. Adults seeking assistance from the South Suburban Workforce Center (WIOA), also are eligible to receive tutoring assistance at PSC.

OUR MISSION:

Help adult learners improve literacy skills in reading, writing, and math so they can effectively participate in society and the workplace.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVE:

- Complete an intake interview with student, including goal setting.
- Match students with a trained tutor for one-on-one assistance.
- Pre-test adult learner to measure literacy skills after tutor instruction.
- Provide appropriate referrals to adult education, career training, college or employment.

Volunteer tutor: Tom Powers and Gano Mitchell

BECOME A VOLUNTEER

Tutors are volunteers from the community who have advanced skills in the areas of math, English, reading, and computer literacy. With assistance from the Adult Literacy Specialist, all tutors complete 12 hours of required training through the Secretary of State.

Tutors:

- Volunteer to tutor in reading, writing, math, and/or computer literacy.
- Meet with students weekly to increase adult learner's skills in the identified area.
- Communicate with the Literacy Specialist regarding the progress of your sessions.
- Play an essential role in helping adult learners achieve their academic and career goals.
